

It's about time that you do something for the people and not just big business. This is not what you were meant to do.